Show Window Of America
When refugees from Europe reach New York, pass through quarantine, and are finally given the freedom of this country, one of their first acts, as a tourist, is to look around the streets of the metropolis and look in the store windows. Most of them are amazed to the point of speechlessness. Never in their lives have they seen such abundance. It is beyond belief that anyone can walk into a store and buy a refrigerator, an outfit of clothes, an automobile, a load of groceries, or anything else he wants, and in any quantity he wants.
Then when they move on across the continent, they find incredible as it seems, that this abundance is everywhere. In New York the stores are bigger and there are more of them, to serve the needs of millions. But in the small towns attractive stores offer the same abundance of goods, and at the same price. All of them are doing their best to attract the buyer and gain his good will.
The retail store is the show window of America. In the industrial areas vast factories, employing legions of well-paid workers, produce what we need and desire. Mass production is an American miracle. Then, to make the cycle complete, mass distribution brings the flood of goods to our homes. These two inseparable forces are the rocks on which our living standards are based.

Colored Organizations Buy On Funds To Buy Part Of School Property

City Commissioner J. Harris, chairman of a special committee to dispose of the north wing of the former colored elementary school, on Fifth street, made report to the Commission on Wednesday night. He stated that his committee had counseled with the Color-Civic League, which had asked to be given or permitted to buy that particular portion of the old building for library and other civic activities. That it was found that the League did not have finances to even pay for proposed lots on which to move the section, if it was turned over to it, or for moving of same, the total cost being estimated at $7,000, which the city did not have to invest in the project.

Bids were asked for the wing but only one bid of $200 was received and this by action of Commission was directed rejected. The Commission directed that the Street department force proceed at once to dismantle the wing, salvaging such lumber and equipment as worth while, and store same until needed. Report was that there was considerable valuable timber and siding to be salvaged. Work on clearing up for the new labor loading center will go forward as fast as possible. The ordinance setting up this loading center project was passed at the commission, Wednesday night, as an emergency act, and the Commission can now proceed with its plans.

OBSERVATIONS
to a station style. I enjoyed the local news reports because it was the only way I could check up on what was happening in my own news field. Belle Glade and business men who will miss these friendly "drop in" visits which the dominion was accustomed to make them. The dominion believed in people attending church, and some time during his visit, he would get in a plug along that line. We will miss that man's genuine friendly manner and smiling smile. Good luck to you, preacher, wherever your future ministerial work may land you.

When I look back to my early school days, and remember the "little red school house" with its poor light, ventilation, sanitary and heating facilities. What a comparison to the present modern buildings! If I could attend school under present day conditions, I believe I would like to enroll for further education. Back years ago, many of the children reading distances from the school had to mostly walk to and from school and not hauled in modern buses. I fondly remember the Christmas season when I put my pair of ice skates to be used on the big pond adjoining the school grounds. I think I still feel some of those hard bumps I took in learning to operate on the steel blades.

Several new official faces to be found in the Belle Glade City Hall these days. "Sonny" Bender, did not get that nick name without cause, and his smile is not missing. Frank Anderson, is accustomed to waiting on the public from behind a counter, and his usual courteous treatment of office patrons will not be missing.

In his life time Judge G. A. Hubbell wrote many pretty articles of a sentimental nature. He wrote one, which he requested be read at his funeral service, and we herewith reproduce it as a memorial to him. "When my life ended, my work is done, my eyes are closed, please let Dear Quietude be my only companion, wordless, alone and unapproached. While thus, by upon my body one of Nature's people, the breeze, we together onward, simply and peacefully." These conditions prevailed at the farewell services.

W. P. Risk is fitting land at the year of his Palm Beach residence, which he is planning to plant to flowers and shrubbery and soon we will be seeing a house of beautiful flowers on display. The Misses Risk, are expert floriculturists, and the garden will be under their expert care. A number of new and rare plants will be found in their proposed collection.

Thanksgiving day has come and gone, and most of us were thankful for the many blessings which came to us during the past year. To epidemic of illness struck our area. Our death but was comparatively small. The progress had in business and building of new business structures and homes, and to a certain degree have enjoyed moderate prosperity. Take it as a whole our record was a very favorable one.

"How did you keep from crying?" was asked a little girl who had fallen down and hurt her knee. "Oh," she answered, "I just said to myself 'stop that' and made myself mind no flow many of us do what this child is reputed to have done."

Driven the Tumbler trail from Ft. Myers to Naples a traveler in note that all the towns of the Gulf coast are becoming so much building. In Naples the building is most noticeable, with some fine new homes, business blocks, and a number of what will be fine new motel places. This town is quite an attractive place with its golf course, its fine bathing beach and the three fishing piers. With the where-with-all to pay the expenses one could enjoy a fine vacation period there.

Sweet corn and snap beans in the table does not make a bad meal for any one. Some of these Graber crop radishes are not surprising, and what we get those new potatoes and tomatoes our eating bowl will be filled.

On Wednesday of last week, I was sent on an assignment, which took me into rich, farming lands lying along the Tamiami canal, and between the Ritz and Belle Glades. Here I saw rich farm lands and beautiful crops coming on to maturity. That is sure some large pumping plant the Ritz Drainage district owns an operator for drain-gifts are locally obtainable and at comparatively advantageous prices.

When the time comes when Rev. I. E. Enlow leaves our city, there will be many a merchant and business man who will miss these friendly "drop in" visits which the dominion was accustomed to make them. The dominion believed in people attending church, and some time during his visit, he would get in a plug along that line. We will miss that man's genuine friendly manner and smiling smile. ## Carrier Planes Make Call at 'The Rock'

The promontory of the historic fortress of Gibraltar serves as a backdrop for planes of the U. S. Navy's Valley Forge during the carrier's visit to the famous British bastion of the Mediterranean. The plane was land-based at the Royal Air Force strip during the ship's stay in Gibraltar.

By its means the lands of the district are quickly drained of flood waters. When the Miami canal is completed, and new dikes thrown up under the Flood control plan, this will be one of the best protected farming section of the Glades.

With the formation of a permanent Hospital Auxiliary that institution is going to be given a most helpful service. Supt. Pfeiffer is highly pleased that such an organization has been formed to give assistance out at this large institution, and welcomes it.

Passing down the street in front of a merchandising place I noted a large collection of bicycles, which had the name Shelby upon them. This took me back to my Old Fellow traveling days in Ohio, where I held a district meeting in Shelby. My best, who was connected with the Shelby Mfg. Co., took me through the big rambling factory, where bicycles are the main product. The plant at that time employed more than 1500 employees. The company is one of the largest producers of bicycles in the states. Made my home-visit on sale in Belle Glade.

LOOKS like a Jet Plane
TRAVELS the same way

You see it quick-stepping along the highway - and you can't miss the parallel.

You glimpse a bold front end - sleek tapering fenders - facing, streamlined roof lines - even to "double bubble" taillights, here is the look of "the fastest thing that flies."

Then you try one on the road, courtesy of your Buick dealer.

Adjectives flock into mind - "agile" - "nimble" - "eager."

You realize that here is action, swift easy-action born of Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight power - action floated on soft coil springs that, for all their lightness, keep your grip on the road sure-footed and firm.

This you tell yourself, is traveling as traveling should be.

Comfortable - in the spacious manner of king-size interiors. Easy - in the lightness of controls, which can include even the magic of Dynaford Drive* if you wish. Pleasurable - in the wide, wide outlook that's yours, and the inner satisfaction of having a Buick for your very own.

And we might add another thing, just by way of being practical.

It's frugal too. Frugal in a first cost that's actually less than for some sizes. Frugal in the surprising way such a sizable car gives the go-by to gas pumps.

And if you have Dynaford, frugal even in many upkeep costs you can forget about - such as clutch troubles, transmission maintenance, even many engine servicing costs.

Why not put yourself into one of these jet-lined beauties right now? It's more easily managed than you might imagine - as you'll see by talking to your Buick dealer.

*Optional at extra cost.

Consumers' Problems

By Mrs. Ora D. Lee

Mrs. Lee has done special research on this problem at Teachers Institute, University of Virginia, and at the University of California.

Our first major field to consider under Consumer's Problems since the school is one of the largest consuming elements is the School Lunch. The first responsibility falls on the principal who is administratively responsible for:

(1) Interpreting the program to the community and for enlisting its support through all available channels.

(2) Making the entire school staff conscious of the opportunities of using the school lunch program with other areas of instruction.

(3) Making the lunch program an educational experience which functions in the lives of the children.

(4) Seeing that the lunch is made available to all children in the school.

(5) Arranging for sufficient time in the school schedule for desirable eating habits to be observed.

(6) Arranging the kind of schedule that will allow all teachers to share in the school lunch program.

(7) Providing sufficient space and equipment in the lunch room for meals to be observed and served in accordance with local and state laws or regulations for sanitation.

(8) Making sure that workers, paid and volunteer, comply with local and state regulations concerning health examinations for food handlers.

(9) Making a list of all members of the school lunch staff to be on duty when school lunch department is used for community improvement and programs.

(10) Seeing that same "menu" is served to all persons eating in the department and that the same type of service is given all.

(11) Recommending for employment all school lunch personnel on the same basis as other school personnel.

(12) Maintaining such personnel standards as will exclude any person from accepting as a result of his association with the school lunch program, any extra favors, goods, services or money beyond payment of salaries.

(13) Making arrangements for adequate and convenient toilet facilities and handwashing facilities for pupils and workers.

Next to the principal comes the manager of the school lunch. There are certain definite duties relegated to this person which if carried out strictly makes for a progressive lunch program. As to personnel, the manager outlines the duties and work schedule for each employee, instructs and supervises employees on the job, arranges for, or advises about their employee's physical examination; keep record of employee's time in the time book; keep check on employee's personal appearance; insist on wearing hairnets; treat employees in such a way as to develop the morale of the organization and efficiency of the workers, and stimulate them to get personal satisfaction from their work.

Food

(1) Study food habits of the community from which your students come, noting particularly food customs and the economic status.

(2) Plan menus based on sound principles of nutrition.

(3) Make important items for the lunch manager is to keep check on the day's receipts and preparation for dinner. Good record keeping is a sign of thorough training and preparation. A list of all prices, record price changes from bills, should be kept; rechecked and compared for future use. Calculate recipe and portion costs; determine food costs percentages; take inventories of food and supplies on last day of each account display. Learn to interpret monthly profit and loss statements and give information they give.

Cleaning and Sanitation

(1) Daily check-up cleanliness of aprons, dish towels; issue clean laundry needed.

(2) Instruct workers how to use the equipment well.

(3) Organize daily and weekly cleaning schedule; supervise cleaning of entire department to use the equipment well.

(4) Instruct workers how to use the equipment well.

Health and Education

(1) Participate in school health program, assist in giving special diets, give nutrition lectures or demonstrations on occasions.

(2) Participate in school health programs of community nutrition program.

(3) Cooperate with other departments in the school; encourage guidance counselors to bring classes to visit the cafeteria.

(4) Display suitable posters in the lunch room; change them often enough to keep interest alive.

(5) Serve flavorful, attractive and nourishing food.

(6) Include the basic seven foods in the daily menu.

(7) Give variety to daily menu; but observe attractiveness in each dish.
